Stolen Buggy Recovered.

About two weeks ago, Mr. James Worthington purchased a horse and buggy of a young man giving his name as Louis Carter, of Darien. The purchase was made during the night when the party was in Mr. Worthington's garage, and though the latter did not have much need of the rig, he bought it, because it was a good bargain. Horse, buggy and harness was sold for $75. The horse alone was worth the price, but subsequent developments, show that the purchaser did not make quite as good a bargain as he at first supposed. About that time Mr. H. B. Howell, a liveryman of Sharon, hired a buggy and harness to a young man, who failed to return, and thinking the rig might have been brought to Janesville, Mr. Howell wrote a description of it to Mr. Nick Fredericks. This morning Mr. Howell came to Janesville, and instituted a personal search for the stolen vehicle. In going through Delavan's barn, on Bluff street, his attention was attracted to Mr. Worthington's buggy. On closer inspection he identified it as the one he had lost. The buggy and harness, were of course, turned over to him, and taken back to Sharon. Mr. Worthington says he knows Carter's father, who is said to be well off, and feels satisfied that he will not lose anything by the transaction. "Possum," has learned a lesson, however, and will probably never buy another rig at night, under such circumstances.

The New Cotton Mill.

Work has been commenced on the new cotton factory. Mr. John Watson, the contractor, is now engaged in clearing the site of the mill, and sometime next week, will begin to break ground for the roads.

This would be done now, but a sufficient number of teams cannot be had. The mill will be built about thirty rods from the originally intended location, as the company have succeeded in purchasing six acres of land, known as the Dawson land, situated about sixty rods from the McLean woolen mill. This site is a much better one than the first selected. It is expected that the race, wheel-pits, etc., will be completed by winter.
